This party, as it now stands before the country, and as will be made manifest by its action in the National Convention, is a unit on the great questions in which the South is so deeply interested and which indeed involve, in all human probability, the safety of the Union.

While this fact is so manifest, the Journal labors from day to day, to conceal it from its readers : and while the Know-Nothings in the free States have been almost bodily absorbed by the antislavery party, leaving a scarcely visible remnant of nationality in their powerless and nearly defunct organization, it asserts, with unblushing eff contery, that the only hope of the country rests year will be tremendously large. We devote much of our space this morning to the reply of Mr. Marcy to Lord Clarendon.

The Dismissal of Mr. Crampton. The following is Mr. Marcy's dispatch in full: SECRETARY MARCY TO MR. DALLAS.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, Tuesday, May 27, 1856. SIR: The President has carefully considered the note of the 30th ult., addressed to you by the Earl of Clarendon, Her Majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, relative to the questions inflammatory kind. And had Caruthers, Jones, Clingman, Dixon, and others been here to have witnessed the enemy (and their defiant position, so all-important) to be met by the Union men—in fact the combined strength of all national men of the old parties—they would have felt proud of their present position. Many Old-Line Whigs present from Kentucky, Tennessee, &c., did not hesitate to say, at once, that they were for Democracy proper. Had Garrett Davis, Samuel Swope, and others, been here, who have fawned to the which have arisen between this Govern The leading purpose of the Louisville Journal and others, been here, who have fawned to the so called "American principles" as the panacea for the so called "American principles" as the panacea for the so called "American principles" as the panacea for the United States. laws of the United States," are satisfactory to the President. The ground of complaint, so far as

> In respect to such of these officers and agents as have no connection with this Government it has nothing to ask from that of Her Majesty—but the case is different in relation to Mr. Crampton, Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to this Government, and the Consuls at New York, Philadelphia, and Gineinnati. The Persident is gratified to preceive that Her Majesty. President is gratified to perceive that Her Majes-ty's Government would not have hesitated to com-ply with the request to withdraw these officers m their official position if it had entertained the eruiting contrary to the laws and sovereign rights of the United States. I need secreely say that in making this request no interruption of the diplo-matic relations between this Government and that able representative of her Britannic Majesty near this Government." For the same reason the with-drawal of the three British Consuls was also requested. These officers were, as this Government confidently believes, deeply implicated in proceed-ings contrary to the law and sovereign rights of the United States, and contrary, as it now appears, to the intentions and reiterated instructions of their own Government. It was their personal acts, not the less objectionable for having seen done contrary to the directions of her Maj-esty's Minister, which rendered them in their offi ial character and position unacceptable to this lovernment, and induced the President for that sause to solicit their recall, believing that by this course he was contributing to the common interest and harmony of the two Governments. He has not, after most mature deliberation, been able to change his view of their conduct, and cannot therefore change his purpose in relation to them, though their conduct related to, and in fact orig-mated a difficulty which disturbed the cordial tween the two Governments as to the compl of these officers in illegal proceedings within United States. In reviewing this subject, the President was disposed to avail himself of any reasonable doubts which could be raised in his mind in order to bring his opinion in this respecting to conformity with that of her Majesty's Gov. ernment; but, after careful consideration of the case, he has been unable to change the co to which he had previously arrived. Th

our neutrality law by enlisting persons within the United States for British service, or hiring or retaining persons to leave the United States for th purpose of being enlisted in that service. The charges against them are much broader, and embrace the offense of violating the laws and sovereign rights of the United States, by setting in operation within our territory, and conducting ar extensive system of recruiting, which was not and could not be carried into effect without infringing to the minute of the minute comming the exculpa-tory declaration to the simple charge of having violated the provisions of our neutrality act, it does not merit the consideration which Lord Clar-endon has ascribed to it. Lord Clarendon's note to you of the 30th of April, conveys the impression that the evidence by which the officers are implicated is derived from one or two witnesses, whose credibility has been assailed. This, however, is not a correct view of the facts. By examination of my dispatch of the 28th of December, it will be perceived that these witnesses were strongly confirmed, and that there are proofs wholly independent of their testimony, abundantly sufficient to establish the complicity of consuls inculpated do the same. He assumes that the charge against them is sustained mainly by the evidence of two persons, Strobel and Hertz, whom it is obstinate proceeding to the American Government to accept as conclusive, declarations of the Minister and Consuls. I am instructed to say that these considerations do not relieve the President's mind of the unfavorable impressions produced by the conduct of these genelemen in relation to foreign recruitment in the United States. It will be seen, by referring to my dispatch of the 28th of December, in which the grounds of charge against Mr. Crampton were fully stated, that the testimony of Strobel and Hertz was quite a secondary and unimproper and others, and by the undertaking in which he was embarked, and the series of illegal acts which it involved, and in neglecting to observe the general orders of his Government and stop recruiting here the moment its illegality was pronounced by the proper legal authorities of the United States, he was recklessly of the undertaking in which he was embarked, and the sation of the series of illegal acts which it involved, and in neglecting to observe the general orders of his Government and stop recruiting here the moment its illegality was pronounced by the proper legal authorities of the United States, he was recklessly of the unfavorable impracticability of the undertaking in which he was embarked, and the advances of the impracticability of the undertaking in which he was embarked, and the selection of the section of the section of the impracticability of the undertaking in which he was embarked, and the selection of the section of the impracticability of the undertaking in which he was embarked, and the selection of the section of the impracticability of the undertaking in which he was embarked, and in neglecting to observe the general orders of his Government and stop recruiting here the moment its illegality was pronounced by the proper legal authorities of the United States, he was recklessly of the interventions wh

They were agents selected and trusted by Mr. Crampton himself, and to them he committed most important concerns. Such an indersement should countervail the impeachment of their veracity, founded on loose, hearsay reports. Nor does it seem to be a thing of much moment, in relation to the present question, that Strobel, in consequence of imputed misconduct, was dismissed from employment by the Liceutenant Governor of Novis Scotia, and afterward endeavored to obtain money from Mr. Crampton. The fact remains that he held a commission in the British Foreign Legion, and that, as it is clearly proved and not denied, he maintained, as recruiting officer, and for ings, their notoriety and their comprehensive legal effect, what occurred in May deserves particular notice. At New York, on the 15th of May, a number of persons, namely: Godfried Wachier, Wil helm Schumacker, Julius Parkus, Oscar Cremey, mitted Lutz, Schumacker, Cremey, and Parkus. At Philadelphia, on the 25th of May, three persons, Hertz, Perkins, and Bucknail, having been arrosted on the charge of illegal recruiting in the service of Great Britain, applied to the Circuit Court of the United States by habeas corpus to be discharged from custody. The presiding judge, the Hon. John K. Kane, on the examination of the evidence taken in the case before a Commissioner, found the proofs were sufficient to bring the acts of Hertz and Perkins within the conditions of the law, but not so to Bucknail-accordaigly, the latter was discharged, but the two former were committed for trial. Thus, so early as May, it was judicially shown that what was doing in this respect was unlawful. Mr. Grampton was acquainted with these proceedings, and was thus quainted with these proceedings, and was thus sufficiently admonished that the acts of recruit-ment carried on under his authority, did, in fact, whatever may have been his intention, constitute a violation of the municipal law of the United States. This had been decided by the Courts of the United States, and was publicly and extensively made known. It is not controverted, indeed it is admitted, that he had the recruiting business ments responsive to those accompanying the letter of the Earl of Clarendon. Who is to be held acocuntable for these unlawful acts? Were they all performed by volunteer and irresponsible persons, as argued in the Earl of Clarendon's dispatch of the 16th of July? That cannot be admitted for the conclusive reason that they received pay from British officers, and of course were employed by some responsible agents of the British Government. The Earl of Clarendon, in behalf of Her Majosty's The Earl of Clarendon, in behalf of Her Majosty's ally have arrested the mischief at its communication, timely made, would probably have arrested the mischief at its communication. If he had then apprised me of the system of recruiting which had at that time been aland at the expense of the Eritish Government. Who, then, is responsible for these acts? Were trality laws. there no direct proof, though there is much of that character, the inference would be irresistable that, not being authorized by the British Government itself, they were the unauthorized acts of the ment itself, they were the unauthorized acts of the British agents in the United States. Such agents having acted in willful disregard of their Government in thus infringing our laws, may have failed to inform their Government that what hey thad undertaken to do could not be done without infringing those laws; or by mismanagement, discretion, or over zeal, they may have participated in such infringement, though well knowing it was contrary to the wishes and express orders of their Government. However this may be, it is certain that agents existed, because their acts appear. Who were those agents? Of this we are not left in doubt. In the documents on the subject, recently laid before Parliament, it is distinctly stated that the enlistments in the United States did not stop until Mr. Crampton gave orders for their cessation on the 5th of August. He had the power to stop the acts of enlistment. He knew the proceedings were, from the commencement, exceedingly offensive to this Government, and that it was devoting its active energies to arrest them. He was bound to know—he could not but know-what was notorious to all the world, that through the months of April, May, June, and July, the recruiting agents in various parts of the United States, and conspicuously in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and Cincinnati, were keeping up a most unseemly contest with the law officers of the United States, and that, at least, law officers of the United States, and that, at least, as early as May, the illegality of the proceedings had been pronounced by the Federal Courts in New York and Philadelphia, and yet, notwithstanding this, he permitted the unlawful acts in question to go on without check until the month of August. For thus giving countenance to these liberal proceedings, he is distingtly responsible. illegal proceedings, he is distinctly responsible. But his accountability extends yet further, for the same documents show that the official suggestion to the British Government of the untoward scheme of obtaining recruits in the United States came of obtaining recruits in the United States came from the correspondence of Mr. Crampton, and of the Consuls at New York, Philadelphia, and Cinnati, and that to Mr. Crampton was the superintendence and execution of the scheme committed, and thus it is that he who directed, had power to stop the proceedings—and thus from early March until August he is found busily occupied in superintending the enlistment partly in the United States and partly in Canada and Nova Scotia, and in issuing instructions to the agents engaged in that enterprise. It does not suffice for Mr. Crampton on the committed of t that enterprise. It does not suffice for Mr. Cramp-ton now to say that he did not intend to commit

The President, as has already been stated by mel cannot admit the force of the objection now urged of the alleged want of respectability on the part of some of the witnesses by whom these facts were proved, and as to whom a prominent ward the belligerent parties, cause of such alleged want of respectability seems to be the fact that their evidence has inculpated been no such prohibition; but if conscious of their own innocence, and that of the parties on trial, and that their own acts would bear examination, it was alike their right and their duty to appear and say so on oath, and to contradict by their tes-timony whatever was allowed contradict. Bettin Asand Andrew Lutz, were examined before Commissioner Betts, on a charge of recruitment for the service of Great Britain. Eminent counsel were employed by the accused, who argued that no offense had been committed, because it did not appear that any valid contract of enlistment had been consummated; but this ground of defense was overruled by the Commissioner, who, though he discharged Wachier for defective evidence, committed Lutz, Schumacker, Cremey, and Parkus. parties on trial, that the recruitments in which they were engaged were for the service of a foreign Government. Mr. Crampton was himself priveliged from trial for a violation of our municipal law, but the persons whom he employed were not for that cause to go unpunished—nor was the administration of penal justice to be indefinitely suspended on account of his position and the diplomatic immunities which that conferred; on the plomatic immunities which that conferred; on the contrary, it was peculiarly proper that the facts by which he was implicated, but for which he could not be tried, should be verified in due form of law, for the information of his own Government as well as that of the United States. The Earl of Clarendon remarked in his letter of 30th of April, that:

He sincerely regrets that her Majesty's Government has not comply with his request for their recall; but it has not consented to do so.

Hin the earnest desire to act with all possible courtesy toward her Majesty's Government, the President could have suspended his determination in the case in order to submit the new testimony which has confident would have been found sufficient. of April, that:
"The intentions of the British Government and the arrangements made to carry those intentions into execution, were not concealed from the Government of the United States; those intentions ernment of the United States; those intentions and arrangements were frankly stated by Mr. Crampton to Mr. Marey in conversation on the 22d of March, 1855, and the only observations which Mr. Marey made in reply were, that the neutrality laws of the United States would right that any number of purposes. idly be enforced, but that any number of persons who desired it might leave the United States and get enlisted in any foreign service."

it is admitted, that he had the recruiting business in his charge and under his control; yet he permitted it to be continued, although judiciously determined to be unlawful, through the months of May, June, July, and August.

Now this long series of acts, unlawful and otherwise prejudicial to the good name and tranquillity of this country, were performed by persons who were liberally paid by the British officers, and many of whom actually entered the military service of Great Britain. That was incontestably proved on the trial of Hertz and Wagner, by evidence which has not been, and cannot be, impeached; and although the evidence adduced on these trials does not need corroboration, still it may not be amiss to add that much other evidence to the same effect is in possession of this Government, some of which is annexed to this dispatch in the form of documents responsive to those accompanying the letter for the British army. But I am quite certain that on no occasion has he intimated to me that the British Government or any of its officers were or Government, disclaims all intention to violate the laws, compromise the neutrality, or disrespect the sovereignty of the United States by the enlistment of troops within their territory. The President unreservedly accepts, and is fully satisfied with this disclaimer. Of course the unlawful acts in question were not authorized by the British Government, but the fact is nevertheless well established that they were done, and done in the name try, a violation of its national sovereignty, and established that they were done, and done in the name try, a violation of its national so pecially warned against the violation of our neu-

> But he blames me now for not then stating to him that my construction of that law differed from his own; but no such difference of opinion was then developed. Mr. Crampton on that occasion nanifested a coincidence in opinion as to the provisions of that law which I then held and have since fully disclosed. He called on me to show a letter which he had written on that day to the Consul at New York disapproving the proceedings of a Mr. Angus McDonald, "because I (he) though of a Mr. Angus McDonald, "because I (he) thought those proceedings would or might be taken to constitute a violation of the Act of Eighteen—the Neutrality Law of the United States. What were the proceedings of Mr. McDonald, which Mr. Crampton thought might constitute a violation of our neutrality? The simple issuing of a handbill, specifying the terms on which recruits would be received at Halifax into the Queen's service.
> This conient of Mr. Crampton asserbes as much This opinion of Mr. Crampton ascribes as much stringency to our neutrality acts as has ever been claimed for them by the Government or Courts of the United States. I had then no suspicion, nor Mr. McDonald, which he then condemned, and make that law but little better than a dead letter. ned, and the agents. I could not but suppose he viewed it in the same light as Lord Clarendon did when he wrote his dis-patch to Mr. Grampton on the 12th of April there-after, in which his Lordship declared it to be "not only very just, but very stringent." To show that I was not mistaken in this respect, I quote a passage from a letter of Mr. Crampton, dated the 14th of March, to Sir G. Le Marchant: "Any advance of March, to Sir G. Le Marchant: "Any advance of money by Her Majesty's agents, or others in the United States, would constitute an infraction of the Neutrality law." The depositions which accompany this dispatch are made by some of the persons who have furnished the British Government with affidavits to impeach Strobel and Hertz, prove conclusively that Mr. Crampton did not displayed a regions sums of money to agents employed by the found in another column. Je4 d4 burse various sums of money to agents employed in recruiting within the United States.

It was, indeed, apprehended by me at the time that violations of that law would ensue. It could not fail to be seen that any organized scheme of a foreign government to draw recruits from the United States, though by mere invitation, would necessarily tend and result in the violations of the municipal law. So decided was my belief in this respect that measures had already been taken by me, in behalf of the Government, as it happened, upon the very day of the interview with Crampton to institute prosecutions against persons engaged in this business in New York and Philadelphia.

He was the directing head of the long-continued infringement of the laws and sovereign rights of the United States. I trust that it will not be questioned that it belongs exclusively to this Government and its judicial tribunals to give a construction to its municipal laws, and to determine what acts done were perpetrated by the inferior agents. Some of within its jurisdiction are an infringement of these administration, and it cannot allow the agents of and ministration, and it cannot allow the agents of and infringement of the sample of the construction of our laws, which virtually renders them institute procedulous against persons engaged in this business in New York and Philadelphia, in the unintendent of the laws of the United States. was right, he could have had no reluctance to com-municate it to me, for his instructions required him to make that disclosure. Acting in due frank-ness, and with a proper regard for the dictates of international comity, Mr. Crampton should, it would seem, have disclosed to me all measures in-tended to be pursued within the United States by the agents of his Government, including him-self, in execution of the act of Parliament for raising a Foreign Legion. Nay, he was expressly commanded by his Government to practice no con-cealment with the American Government on the subject. If he had obeyed these orders all misure.

credit Strobel and Hertz, is much more than made ap by the additional proofs now adduced. This body of strong cumulative evidence confirms the President's former conclusion as to the complicity of Mr. Crampton and the British Consuls at New York, Philadelphia, and Cincinnati, in the illegal enterprise of recruiting soldiers for the British army within the United States, and the President does not doubt that when this new evidence shall be brought under the consideration of her Maise. erely regrets that her Majesty's Govern-

which he is confident would have been found suffi cient to induce compliance with his request for the recall of the British Minister, he is precluded recall of the British Minister, he is precluded from any such thought of delay by the exceptionable character of the dispatches of that gentleman, copies of which, having been recently laid before Parlament, have thus come to the knowledge of this Government, and which are of a tenor to render further intercourse between the Governments through that Minister alike unpleasant and detrimental to their good understanding. The President has, therefore, been constrained by considerations of the best interests of both countries, reluctantly to have recourse to the only remaining luctantly to have recourse to the only remaining means of removing, without delay, these very un-acceptable officers from the connection they now have with this Government. This course has been deemed necessary on account of their unfitness for the positions they hold, arising from the very acthe positions they hold, arising from the very ac-tive part they have taken in getting up and carry-ing out a system of recruiting which has been at-tended with numerous infractions of our laws, which has disturbed out internal tranquillity, and endangered our peaceful relations to a nation with which this Government is most anxious to main-tain cardial friends.

Wild Cherry puffed up in the papers, and I concluded to try it. I used bottle after bottle, which, in taste and in its operation, resembled paregoric—soothing temporarily. My disease had by this time become firmly seated. I had cold nightsweats, hectic fevers, seeling of the limbs, &c., showing confirmed Consumption. The remedies I obtained from my physician also tailed giving me permanent relief or benefit—my lungs now ulcerated, and I raised large quantities of matter from them. The DOCTOR TOLD MY FRIENDS THAT I MUST DIE! My brother then got a bottle of DR. HALL'8 BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and I commenced taking it. At first it sickened me, but after taking more, I found it went to the spot—to the very seat of my disease. SPECIAL NOTICES.

For Sale at Auction, OF THE UNITED STATES An advertisement of Mr. UDOLPHO WOLFE, lately published, as I suppose, for the protection of his Schiedam Schnapps against counterfeiters, has come under my observation; and, being engaged in the manufacture of Schiedam Schnapps, were I to let it pass without notice, I might be considered among those he denominates "Pirates and Venders of Poison." But the immense patronage and success that has attended the sale of the article manufactured by me, and the opinion of competent judges as to its qualities as a beverage and its medicinal virtues, precludes the possibility of the ideathat I am included among those he designs to impugn. No doubt he feels aggrieved at the depreciation of the sale of his Schnapps, which is manifest to all, since mine hasbeen brought into competition with his. Not only have I succeeded in competing with him quality, but the constant and increasing demand for my article will soon satisfy him that his caution to the citizens of the "Southern and Western States" will avail him nothing as far as I am concerned. The character of my Schiedam Schnappe is too well estab lished in those States to be injured by any such invidi-ous publication. The motive of his advertisement is byiousto every one, and feeling well satisfied that all such missiles thrown at me by him will fall harmless a my feet, I willhere, for the satisfaction of the public publish my Copy Right, entered in the Southern Dis rict of New York, on the 28th of December, 1854

It is made from barley of the finest quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts; is flavored with the essen of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle. As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water-a visitation to which travelers, new settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the west, the south, and southwest are peculiarly liable—the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstruction of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is re commended most emphatically by the most distin-guished members of the medical profession. It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature on the label Forsale by all respectable druggists and country mer cants.

Three boxes are sure to cleanse the system from Boils-often less than one does it. Two boxes have completely cured the worst of Ulo on the legs. Small doses seldom fail to cure the Piles.

Strong doses, often repeated, expel every Worm from the body. They should be given to children, who are always more or less afflicted with this scourge. As a gentle Physic, they have no equal.

They Purify the Blood, and thus strike at the foundation of every disease.

on motion of Mr. Rochill, of Indiana, the report was unanimously adopted, and John L. Dawson conducted the president to the chair.

The president on taking the chair, said the summons to preside over the deliberations of the convention was as unexpected as the honor was undeserved. The distinguished gentleman who yesterday presided, is the connecting link between the past and the present; he had carried them back to a period when the Democratic party was accustomed to go forth to do battle with the great, noble and galant whig party. That party, with the issues that divided us, has passed away. The great leaders of that party have one by one stolen away to their silent resting-place, filled with years and honors, mourned by political friends and foes. MESSRS. O. R. BAKER & CO.—

DEAR SIRE: I have always had objections to have my name in any way attached to a Patent Medicine; but when I think (as I now have every reason to believe) it has saved my life, I am induced by a sense of duty to those afflicted, as I have been, to make my case known, and recommend your Balsam as a medicine that can be relied on. About a year since I was attacked with Lung Fever, which left my lungs much diseased; my cough was distressing, attended with pain in my left side. I had seen Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry puffed up in the papera, and I concluded to try it. I used bottle after bottle, which, in taste and in its operation, resembled parecoric—softling tempo-

THE SHORTEST AND MOST DI-RECT ROUGE TO THE EAST FROM LOUISVILLE. CENTRAL OHIO,

Baltimore and Ohio Railroads. BEING THE ONLY ROUTE BY WASHINGTON CITY

an be procured, to which point, as well as to BALTIMORE. it is the SHORTEST, MOST DIRECT, and in every spect the most reliable route. It is the only route which purchasers of through tickets to NEW YORK are enabled to reach the cities of

BALTIMORE,
and NEW YORK, and NEW YORK, at the cost of a tloket to New York only, thus enabling business men and travelers for pleasure or information, to visit four of the principal cities in the Union for LESS COST THAN CAN ME OFFORDER BY ANY OTHER ROUTE. In a idition to these great advantages, the inducements offered to travelers in the promet and official management of trains on this route must not be lost sight of; added to which the grandeur of the scenery of localities, to be met with in traversing the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, are such as are afforded by no other line of travel in the world.

THREE DAILY TRIANS. PASSENGERS GOING EAST from Louisvill proceed by the U. S. mail steamers to Cincinos there take the rairoad to connect with this line, leave Louisville by the Jeffer onville Rairoad arriving in time to connect with either the 5 A M., 10 A.

M., or 6 F. M. train of the Little Miami Rairroad for Columbus, connecting there with the Central Ohio Railroad through Newark and Zanesville for Bel Air, on the Chico, four miles from Wheeling, from this place the connection with the Baltimore and Ohio Bailroad is made direct.
At Wheeling, or Benwood, four miles below Wheeling, the passenger takes the superior cars of the Baltmore and Ohio Railroad, which leave three times daily —at 7:30 a. M., 4:30 r. M.; and 0 r. M.—for Baltimore, Washington. Philadeiphia and New York, making close and sure connections to all points, East and bouth.
For safety, speed, regularity, beary of the country and gene al confort, the road is second to more in the Union. By the Express Train of this route the time from Uncinnait to Belt-more is but 25% hours, and to Washington is but 27% hours.

The Passengers should be particular and inquire for tickets via 00 LUMBUS and WHSELING, as no other route can vicker through Baltimore or Washington City to New York, their representations to the contrary notwithstanding.

RAILROAD! THIS GREAT WORK OF INTER. and improvement (379 miles from Wheeling to Baltimore, and 403 to Washington,) was opened to the Ohio river in January, 1858, and has now been fully tested and approved, both as a freight and passenger route. This road is located in a remantic country, is solidly constructed, fully equipped, and carefully managed, and is thus rendered an attractive as well as a safe line for travelers. The late completion of the Central Ohio Road, from Columbus to the Ohio river, near Wheeling, adds greatly to the importance of this route, offering, as it does, the most thorough Bailroad connection with the entire West.

connection with the entire West.
